Mayor's Column

Welcome to the October Council Connects

I know I say this every month, but I mean it every time. It's absolutely an exciting time at Alice Springs Town Council.

As October hits, we are nearing a by-election to choose a new member to join the 14th Alice Springs Town Council. The 14th Council have just ticked past a year of serving the community, and we have achieved some fantastic things for the community.

We delivered another round of MyAlice (partnering with NTG) which invested $7 Million into the Alice Springs economy. We have also developed and incredible Strategic Plan that gives us a great platform to deliver results over the coming years. Now we're looking for another selfless community member to join us on that journey.

If you are thinking about nominating, please head to one of two information sessions Council will host. They will be on Thursday 6 October from 5-6pm and Wednesday 12 October from (TIME).

And for everyone else, don't forget to vote. Voting Day will be on Saturday 29 October so make sure your voice is heard. Take it from me, every vote counts!

The by-election is not the only thing happening in October, it's also Mental Health Week from 8-16 October. For so long, the topic of mental health has been taboo. That is something that needs to change, and is beginning to change.

More than ever before, it's important to connect with the people in our lives and create space for conversations about mental health and wellbeing. So, this October, reach out to a friend to see how they are doing, or if you are struggling, remember you are not alone.

Let's keep taking care of each other!

Matt Paterson, Mayor

Local Government by-election

Residents in Alice Springs will head to the polling booth once again in 2022 with Alice Springs Town Council calling a by-election for Saturday 29 October.

Following the resignation of Jimmy Cocking from the position of Councillor earlier in 2022, a seat in the Chamber is now vacant with a by-election taking place to elect a ninth Councillor.

This will be held on Saturday 29 October with early voting commencing from Monday 17 October.

“Councillors make decisions in the best interest of the community and it’s important that residents get the opportunity to vote for their preferred representative,” Mayor Matt Paterson said.

“It’s vital that you get out to your closest polling booth on Saturday 29 October and make your voice heard. Every vote counts in these elections so be sure to have your say.”

Nominations for the one vacant position on Council will open on Friday 7 October and will be open for one week. They will close on Friday 14 October.

Two information sessions for those considering nominating for Council will be held in the Andy McNeill room on Thursday 6 October from 5-6pm and Wednesday 12 October from 12-1pm. These sessions will answer any questions you may have about standing for Council.

“Serving the community as an Elected Member is a privilege and extremely rewarding,” Mayor Paterson said.

“I encourage everyone with a genuine passion for Alice Springs to consider nominating.”

Young talent in Alice Springs

Alice Springs is full of talented young guns and Alexandra Thorogood is the perfect example.

Alexandra has called Alice Springs home for her entire life and is now challenging herself with a move interstate. Along with partner Corey Neill, Alexandra is off to Townsville, but not before making a huge impact on the Red Centre.

Across the past two years Alexandra has played a leadership role among young people in Central Australia and has even helped to educate youths about the environment through her Planeteer Program.

“Back in 2020 I was a member of the NT Youth Round Table, and part of that is throughout the year you create an original project to focus on within the community,” she said.

“The project I decided to create was The Planeteers, which was a series of environmentally orientated workshops, most of which were facilitated by ALEC.

“Completing all the workshops allowed youths to gain a certificate in an Introduction to Permaculture, which is a great thing for them to have on their resume if they decide to pursue a career in that area. All of the workshops were just really fun as well!”

While helping raise awareness about waste and recycling, Alexandra also showcased her creative flair through the Youth Recycled Art Prize. Entering the competition for the first time in 2022, Alexandra and Corey both worked to create the art piece ‘Debbie Debris’ which ended up winning the 16-19 Years category. (photo on next page)

“We’d only just finished school last year, and I had served on what was the Youth Action Group for three years.

This was the first year out of school that I could actually participate in those events because I was always helping to organise them,” Alexandra said.

“This year I thought ‘nope, I want to do them’ so I just went in everything!

“I actually got the idea for Debbie Debris when I was working at the town pool, I was a lifeguard there. I just decided that I wanted to do something nautical with a marine life theme and I love turtles so I put it all together and it turned out really well.

Alexandra’s creativity doesn’t stop with sculptural pieces however, as she also went on to win the 2022 Phoney Film Festival as well as the People’s Choice Award with her solo entry Treasure. Even more incredible, the film was Alexandra’s first foray into filming and directing.

“Towards the end of school, both Corey and I were extras in a couple of films that were being shot around town and we both loved the experience,” Alexandra said.

“Again, I just knew I wanted to enter so I just had a think of what was important to me for inspiration.

“The actual movie is about a crew of Pirates who are unhappy so they decide to set out to find treasure believing that it will bring them happiness. But they soon learn that the term ‘treasure’ can mean far more than what they first thought.

“The majority of the cast was around 12 years old, and if you look at (the film) it conveys a deep message that it doesn’t matter how many material things you have, true happiness is found in the connections you have with those around you.”

We wish Alexandra and Corey all the best in their new journey!

Red CentreNATS donated car

There were plenty of incredible cars making their way through the streets of Alice Springs throughout last month's Red CentreNATS festival, none more amazing than this beauty.

Alice Springs Town Council recently donated an abandoned vehicle to the Right Tracks Program with students from Yipirinya School working hard to restore and repair the car.

Students learned a range of auto-repair skills through the process with valuable hands-on experience.

After getting it back in tip-top shape with the help of a few local businesses, the students decked the car out with amazing designs ready for the famous Red CentreNATS Street Parade.

It's fair to say the car was a hit with the crowd as it roared down the Alice Springs streets as the unique design proved to be a fan favourite.

"Alice Springs Town Council is really proud to support the growth of young people in our community, and this was a fantastic way help students learn valuable life skills," Alice Springs Mayor Matt Paterson said.

"The students did an incredible job too, the car looked amazing travelling down the street and you could see the sense of pride on their faces.

"A huge congratulations to everyone at the Right Tracks program and Yipirinya School for their efforts."

NT MENTAL HEALTH WEEK

8 - 16 October, 2022

Mental Health Week in the Northern Territory is quickly approaching, and we are encouraging Alice Springs residents and communities across the NT to get involved!

Mental Health Week is part of a national mental health campaign held in October each year and incorporates World Mental Health Day on 10 October. This week is to raise awareness about mental illness, and how it impacts on the lives of people in our community, while challenging stigma and engaging communities in activities that promote mental wellbeing.

Mental Health Week 2022 runs from 8 - 16 October with a theme of 'Awareness, Belonging and Connection', highlighting the important factors that help people maintain positive mental health and wellbeing. It is about connecting with the people in our lives and creating space for conversations about mental health and wellbeing.

Events are held throughout the Northern Territory and across Australia, both online and in-person, to encourage and promote mental health and wellbeing, while raising awareness and encouraging help-seeking behaviour. Everyone is encouraged to take part in Mental Health Week, whether through organising or attending an event, or by reaching out to friends, family or workmates - something we can all do.

The Mental Health Association of Central Australia will be hosting several events in Alice Springs during Mental Health Week, including their annual 'Stress Less in the Park' event, with speakers, local service stalls, music by Bambadino, Katanga Junior and Stuart Nuggett, kids' activities, a demonstration by the Arrernte Community Boxing Academy, food and drinks. To register an event or find other Mental Health Week events view our calendar at NTMHW Events Calendar at NT_MENTAL_HEALTH_WEEK \(ntmhc.org.au\)).

This year orange is the official colour for Mental Health Week in the NT. Why not have a 'Wear Orange' day at your school or workplace, host a morning or afternoon tea with delicious orange themed food, or pop an orange light globe in the window of your home or office to start a conversation and show that mental health and wellbeing is important to you.

The Northern Territory Mental Coalition coordinate the event in collaboration with other State mental health peak bodies, and provide a range of resources on our website to help you plan an event or find other ways to participate (www.ntmhc.org.au/nt-mental-health-week/event-resources/).

Promoting awareness about mental health and wellbeing can raise conversations that could be confronting or sensitive. If you are running an event or activity, consider talking with your team about how to approach these, and what you are comfortable discussing. Our downloadable participation guide includes ideas for events as well as a list of mental health support numbers that you can pass on to people who have questions you don't have answers to or who are seeking advice or help. Young people from across Alice Springs helped shape their own future in September with Alice Springs Town Council hosting its first Youth Summit.

Roughly 60 students from across the Red Centre met last month to share their aspirations for Alice Springs with Council, covering a range of topics including education, facilities and safety.

The day was led by the young people in attendance with students from a range of different backgrounds helping guide Council's future decision making, assisting in creating change for the better.

"Individuals under the age of 20 currently make up roughly 25 per cent of the Alice Springs' population, so being able to hear directly from young people about the issues that impact them is invaluable," Director Community Development Nicole Battle said.

"Certainly, from my perspective, I was incredibly impressed by all of the participating young people and the extent to which they were able to articulate the vision for Alice Springs.

"I am now looking forward to taking everything that we heard and engaging with other young people across the community. In particular, those young people who don't always get a seat at the table, including young people not engaged in education, young people in care and young people with a lived experience of disability."

Council will now look at expanding the Youth Summit concept to capture the ideas of as many young people throughout the Alice Springs community as possible. These ideas will assist in shaping Council's decision making in future.

Do you have a creative side that you need to unleash? Maybe you've always wanted to get into painting but need a few pointers to get you started? Well we've got great news for you!

Alice Springs Town Council have partnered with Red Hot Arts Central Australia and Lhere Artepe for the exciting 'Paint the Gap' project. The project will see young people aged between 12-25 paint a beautiful new community mural under the guidance of local artist Tamara Cornthwaite.

From Tuesday 4 to Saturday 8 October, Tamara Cornthwaite will host a week of open youth painting sessions in conjunction with Alice Springs Town Council's school holiday youth street art project.

The mural will be located at 2 Gap Rd at the Lhere Artepe offices, and will consist of three totems of the Lhere Artepe Estates, and a landscape linking the five walls using vibrant desert/nature colours.

Registrations for the workshops are necessary as spots are limited to 20 per workshop. If you would like to register, email YDO@astc.nt.gov.au or call 8950 0500.

Council are proud to join Red Hot Arts and Lhere Artepe on the Paint the Gap project.

Green Waste

With the weather rapidly warming up, now might be your last chance to get in that garden before the heat really kicks in!

Summer is right around the corner and fast approaching with temperatures already reaching the mid-30s. That means it's the perfect time to start pruning your trees and trimming your hedges.

The big question is though, what to do with all that green waste? Alice Springs Town Council has your answer. Household green waste can be dropped off at the Regional Waste Management Facility FREE OF CHARGE!

That's right, there is no need to put your trimmings in the bin. Rather than putting your green waste in your wheelie bin at home, bring it down to the Regional Waste Management Facility where we can turn it into mulch!

The green waste is chipped and stockpiled where the moisture content, pH, and temperature are controlled over a minimum of three weeks to create a quality mulch that you can then buy.

In the dry climate of Central Australia, adding a thick layer of mulch to your garden will reduce heat stress to plant roots and will reduce evaporation, saving water. Please speak to our Rediscovery Centre staff if you are interested in purchasing mulch.

If you are a senior and have trouble dropping your green waste off to the RWMF, Council are here to help. The Pensioner Garden Waste Removal Service runs twice a year, seeing Council staff bring a truck directly to your doorstep to load all your green waste while you kick back and enjoy a well-deserved break.

All you have to do is register! The next Pensioner Garden Waste Removal Service will be between 22-24 November. You can register online at <https://alicesprings.nt.gov.au/community/waste-recycling/pensioner-pruning-removal-service> or keep an eye out for November's Council Connects for a form.

CENTRALIAN AWARDS NOMINATIONS

Do you know someone extraordinary in Alice Springs? Maybe someone you know has gone out of their way to make the community a better place, or donates their time to those less fortunate?

Well now is the time to give them some recognition through the 2023 Centralian Awards!

The Centralian Awards are handed out at each Australia Day Flag Raising and Citizenship Ceremony, celebrating the recipients' significant contributions to the Alice Springs community. The big prize on the day is the famous Centralian Citizen of the Year with all categories for the 2023 awards currently being finalised.

"We all know there are so many incredible people in Alice Springs, and the Centralian Awards are a great way of recognising some of those incredible people in our community," Mayor Matt Paterson said.

"Often these people are incredibly humble, so it's up to you to ensure they receive the credit they deserve. Make sure you put your nominations in today!"

Nominations for the 2023 Centralian Awards will open soon at <https://alicesprings.nt.gov.au/about-alice-springs/council-events/centralian-awards>. Keep your eye on the website for more information. Hard copies of the nomination form will also be available from the Civic Centre Reception once finalised.

You're never too young or old to Learn to Swim! That's right, the Learn to Swim program is back at the Alice Springs Aquatic and Leisure Centre this month.

ASALC is a proud AUSTSWIM Accredited Centre which adheres to the highest standards of teaching and development of swimming and water safety skills.

Enrolment Day for Term 4 of the Learn to Swim program will be held on Saturday 8 October from 10.30am-1.30pm at the Aquatic and Leisure Centre. If you are returning to the program, you can log on to your existing account and register from 10.30am 8 October.

New to the program? Visit ASALC anytime before 8 October and the friendly team will help you get started! For more information contact ASALC on 8950 4360 today.
